Sanya News Center, located at the golden area of Sanya Bay, with the positioning in new media industry and fashion art industry, provides strong support for the regional development. With urban space and surrounding environment as guideline, the building cluster reflects the spatial relationship between the shoreline of water system and buildings in urban center. The building height rises from north to south with a strong sense of rhythm. As the carrier building for new media, Sanya News Center, integrating various functions such as communication, media and culture, highlighting modernity and inclusiveness, will become the most fashionable and high-end art center in Hainan Province.
